

Organs of a future World State

1 Association of all nations of the planet, 2 For the further development of global and sustainable development, 3 Establishing and monitoring global standards for human existence, 4 As a superordinate complaint and arbitration body between states, 5 Control of the abolition of inequalities in the distribution of income and wealth as well as the fair distribution of global taxes, 6 Transformation of the IMF and the World Bank into a global finance agency as guardian of a future world currency, 7 Abolition of national armies in favor of a professional global high-tech army, 8 For compliance with world laws and preservation of world order, 9 The branch offices serve for rapid exchange of relevant and forecast topics in the societies between the nation states and the world state